General Grant Entertained by the Merchants of San Francisco

Complimentary Address by Gov. Perkins and Response by the General—He Congratulates the Merchants upon the Prosperity of their City and upon the Condition of the Laboring Classes—Off for Oregon

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 9—A reception [illegible] by the chamber of commerce and Board of trade on behalf of the merchants of San Francisco took place at noon to-day in the room of the chamber of commerce. There were [illegible] 400 leading merchants of the city present. The invitations read as follows: "Reception tendered by the chamber of commerce and board of trade of San Francisco Oct 9 [illegible] [illegible] Gov. Perkins presiding [illegible] [illegible] Jacob's, [illegible] president of the board of trade. To accommodate those present it was found necessary to remove all the tables [illegible] handsomely [illegible] with [illegible] American flags. At 20 minutes past 12 o'clock the general who had been driven in a carriage from the Palace Hotel was escorted into the chamber by [illegible] James [illegible] Patrick and [illegible] Wheeler.

Gov. elect Geo C Perkins representing the Chamber of Commerce and Jacob's Taber on behalf the Board of Trade received the distinguished guest. Mr Perkins addressing the general said:

General Grant the merchants of San Francisco represented by the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade have the honor to pay you their respects desiring as merchants to express their appreciation of your services to our common country recognizing the fact that universal prosperity is best promoted by domestic and national intercourse and that through commerce and trade the nations of the world are brought into most intimate relations in which the great end peace is absolutely essential. They regard you as a great chieftain whose military genius restored domestic peace and civil law throughout our country. In the hour of triumph your magnanimity did not allow you to forget that the good will of all our countrymen was as necessary as the success of the armies under your command. When intrusted with the highest office in the gift of the people you proved to the world how war could be avoided and peace secured by friendly arbitration.

We regard you as an honorable representative of our republican citizenship more especially to be so esteemed because although successful in war you have so fully appreciated the advantage of peace while the honors bestowed upon you by foreign potentates have never caused you to swerve from the path of republican simplicity and true American citizenship. The merchants of San Francisco welcome you to your native land, wishing you a happy return to your home many years of happiness and an old age which shall command the continued honor and reverence of your countrymen.

Perkins then presented the address which he had delivered to the general on a scroll on the back of which was the inscription "To General U S Grant from the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade of San Francisco Oct., 1879." Underneath were the names of the presidents and secretaries of the two bodies.

Gen. Grant addressing Gov Perkins, said he was very much gratified to meet the merchants of San Francisco and to have the pleasure of being introduced to them. He had remarked with pleasure the wonderful growth of this city and complimented the merchants for having done much toward building up this community. They all knew that he had traveled extensively in the last two years and nowhere did he see greater evidence of prosperity than here. The condition of laboring classes seemed to be better here than at any place he had been. Labor left to itself grew debased and he had in no part of the world seen such evidences of prosperity of the laboring classes which was the highest compliment he could pay to the merchants of the city. In conclusion he thanked them for the reception they had tendered him.

The merchants were then introduced to the general, and at the conclusion of the ceremony he was escorted to his carriage and driven back to the Palace hotel.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the general was driven to the wharf and embarked on the St Paul which this afternoon steamed out of the bay on her voyage to Oregon. The shipping in the harbor displayed their colors as the steamer passed the city front.

HOME RULE ADDRESS.

A Wail from Ren-Ridden Ireland—Appeal to the Irish in America

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

NEW YORK Oct 9—A special cable says of an address issued by home rulers on the anti-rent agitation in Ireland.

A telegram has this evening been received from New York guaranteeing sums of $25 000 if an Irish member of the advanced party will visit the United States. Parnell will probably go. An address has been issued to-day. It says that apart from the effect of American competition with the products of reunited Ireland all Irish evils are referable to the barbarous land system. It is that system which has reduced the people to such desperate circumstances. It is that system which has compelled them to proclaim ownership of soil by the people and not by landlords. No confiscation of proprietorial rights is demanded; societies must be organized in every county; assistance must be rendered to the tenants against the landlords; the power at present lies wholly with the latter to give advantage to the former. Two things are necessary: 600 000 landless farmers must be welded together into one organized body and aid must be given them. They require money. No community has had more bitter experience of the land system than these Irish who have been compelled to seek abroad the food that has been denied them at home. Nowhere will this appeal sound such depths as in that great shelter and where ten millions of Irishmen have taken refuge. Let them remember that the state of things which Ireland now desires to abolish has banished them from their beloved land to benefit by laws which afford equal protection to all classes of citizens in that great American republic. They can appreciate all efforts that aim at affording equal incentives to progress to their crushed and persecuted kindred at home. The appeal is made to all whom evil laws have driven from their native land. It is an address to the men and women of other nationalities all the world over who can sympathize with a wronged and impoverished people and that people being resolved to find a remedy for their evils do now appeal to the American Irish that they may lift themselves from social degradation into a position where notices to quit and rack rents shall no longer operate against industry, security and contentment. No one must think that there is any wish to place the anti rent agitation in antagonism to other departments of national labor freedom, as it is a task far above the influences of party movement. It has been a sentiment of public opinion it will win the endorsement of the Irish American and the Irish American will at last obtain for Ireland possession of her unfettered soils.

Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer-Sun [illegible]

Gould is regarded as a heartless speculator. He is the owner of the New York Tribune, the most stalwart and radical of republican papers. To the appeal of the Howard Association at Memphis he sent a check of $5000. In addition he left at the acting president to go [illegible] with the noble work and he will foot the bills. Jay Gould professes no friendship for our people. He [illegible] for their deliverance from suffering, disease and death. Gould has a family. The whole south voted for Tilden for the highest office in the land. He is worth millions and is a bachelor. Last year the [illegible] fever sufferers appealed to the world for aid. Mr Tilden subscribed $200. Does anybody want to vote for this bloodless man again? What a contrast exists between the [illegible] and the selfish bloodless politician.

THE STATE FAIR.

The Two Mile Races—Drawing to a Close—A Damp and Cloudy but not Excessively Wet Day—Moderate Attendance—The Sheep Exhibit—Much Miscellaneous Matter

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

SALEM, Oct 9, 1879

[illegible] morning is cloudy but not rainy and the indications are that we shall have a [illegible] fine [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] large [illegible] attendance yesterday through the crowd at the pavilion where we write is very [illegible] The premiums have all been awarded and those who have failed to obtain their expectations must pocket their disappointment while those who have been successful pocket the cash that is providing the society can pay. It is just [illegible] the fair draws toward its close there is a [illegible] murmuring that everything [illegible] [illegible] right, the [illegible] The exhibitors generally are [illegible] fair in expressing their opinions and most of them will be satisfied with whatever percentage of the premiums the society can afford to pay [illegible] that it is no fault of the management that the fair has not been more successful.

It is likely that the present will be nearly the last day of the fair though some of the events on the programme will not be carried out until to-morrow. There is not much ground on which to base hopes of good weather any more this season and though many think that a great deal might be made by prolonging it till next week say Wednesday, this would depend on so many contingencies that if the weather should be good and general [illegible] should come [illegible] such a venture on part of the society would be a good deal like buying pools on the races—a mighty uncertain business. There is a general feeling that the time for holding these meetings must be set nearly or quite a month earlier in the season. Farmers are about the only class who would object to this and their interest is perhaps paramount to that of any others. The last two days of July might suit them better and everybody else about as well.

There have been many things which perhaps really deserve mention more extensive than we have given and parties may in most cases attribute the apparent slight to the fact that there has been no attempt on the part of exhibitors to observe any system or to so describe their goods by printed or written cards or otherwise that visitors could obtain any information concerning articles which are really meritorious.

SHEEP

We had intended to speak extensively of this exhibit but having visited the pens several times and found no attendants or owners to give us any information we are compelled to pick up such matters as are obtainable concerning this important branch of industry. There is perhaps not as great a number of sheep on exhibition as in some former years but the display fully demonstrates the excellence of this country its grasses grains and climate for producing fine sheep for either wool or mutton.

John Minto the father of sheep husbandry in Oregon is at the front as usual with a number of Spanish and American Merino grades, and on this class carries pretty nearly or quite all the first premiums.

Cotswolds, a flock of sheep greatly admired and perhaps the handsomest in the world are shown by James Richards of Salem who takes all the blue ribbons for Cotswolds.

Daniel Clark of Marion county gets the first premium deservedly upon the best pair of lambs one year old, and the second upon some splendid Oxfordshires.

New Oxfordshires owned by M Wilkins are very fine sheep and take the blue ribbons.

D M Guthrie of Polk county is the leader in representing this important industry, and deserves especial mention for the excellent display which he makes. He exhibits French merinoes principally and takes first premium for best two-year-old buck one year-old buck best five lambs and sweepstakes on best buck and five lambs. He also receives other prizes which may be noticed hereafter.

EQUESTRIANSHIP

This event on the state fair programme used to be regarded with an interest second only to that which centered in the races, and Miss Pauline Loony, who carried away a prize of $100 at the second fair of the society is present here but no such premiums are offered now as then, and hence the riders and spectators at the trial this morning were few. Three ladies Miss Mary Hockersmith, of Aumsville Miss Emma Miller of Salem and Miss E E Richardson of Aumsville were the contestants. They were all good riders sitting their horses with a grace and elegance which made it difficult for the judges to decide the question of superiority. They caused some complaint when they gave Miss Miller a third premium instead of a first or second. Miss Hockersmith took the blue ribbon and the red was given Miss Richardson. This is a feature of the fair which appears to be losing its attractions both for competitors and for visitors.

THE TWO MILE RUNNING RACE

For a premium of $500, $400 to the first and $100 to the second horse two miles and repeat brought to the post Barnes & Hodges (Prineville Oregon) ch c Winters 3 years old, carrying 90 pounds; J A Porter's (Forest Grove) br m Georgia A, 4 years old carrying 101 pounds; H P Isaacs' (Walla Walla) ch f Trade Dollar 3 years old, carrying 87 pounds; Miller & Bybee's (Salem) c f Mollie Miller 3 years old, carrying 87 pounds; L. Knott (Portland) c g Sank Owens carrying 112 pounds. The track was heavy, and getting worse every minute under occasional showers. The judges were Geo. Thomas, Wm. Bigham and J. C. Tolman; the time keepers Gen J W Nesmith and E E Bybee.

In the pools Winters was a hot favorite selling for more than all the others, bringing $20 to $7 for Georgia A, Trade Dollar $6, Mollie Miller and Sank Owens in the field bringing $4.

At the third attempt a capital start was made with Trade Dollar in the lead, Winters 2d, Georgie A 3d, Mollie Miller 4th and Sank Owens last. At the quarter Georgie A was in the lead, Trade Dollar 2d with Mollie ten lengths off, Sank Owens in the rear and evidently outpaced. They kept this position to the third quarter, when the three leaders took close order. As they passed the stand Georgie A showed the way by two lengths hard held, Trade Dollar 2d, Winters four lengths from the leader with Mollie Miller a distance behind. As they rounded the back stretch Trade Dollar and Winters commenced closing and a blanket could have covered them all as side by side the Blue and the Bunch Grass contended for the supremacy. At the third quarter Trade Dollar fell to the rear while the fleetfooted daughter of Longfellow and the game son of Norfolk fought with a will, Georgie A winning by two lengths, Winters 2d, Mollie Miller a bad 3d, Trade Dollar and Sank Owens behind the distance flag. Time—4:00½.

Second heat—Winters was still the favorite in the pools. They got an excellent start, Georgie A in the lead, Winters next, and Mollie last, maintaining these positions for a mile and a half when Winters moved up to Georgie A and they ran head and head until half way up the home stretch. At this point Georgie A seemed to give it up. Winters winning the heat by a length in capital time, 3:55¾, considering the condition of the track. Mollie Miller was distanced.

Third heat—Georgie A took the lead which she retained for a mile when Winters who gradually gained overtook her and increasing the distance at every stride won the heat and race in 4:01, Georgie A being distanced. Winters has been a victor in every race in which he ran.

THE TWO MILE TROT

For this race Parrott, Nellie Patchen and Lady Faustina were entered. The track was worse than ever as rain had fallen nearly an hour during the afternoon. Pools sold $40 on Patchen to $30 on Parrott and $10 to $15 on Faustina. Parrott had a length advantage on the start. At the half which was made in 1 2[illegible] Patchen led Parrott by a length and was running Faustina ten lengths in the rear. On the last quarter of the first mile Parrott overtook the mare and passed under the string two lengths ahead in [illegible] The mare crawled up inch by inch and at the 2d half was at Parrott's wheel. They held this position past the third quarter. When within 200 yards of the string each then broke badly and Parrott won the heat by three lengths in 5 [illegible] Faustina distanced.

The second heat began with an even start. Patchen took the lead and at the half (1 24½) was three lengths in advance. Parrott gradually gained and at the string was only a length behind the mare. The second mile was an exact repetition of the first, Patchen winning by half a length in 5 [illegible]

Parrott still sold favorite in the pools. The rain came down in torrents and the mud was four to six inches deep on the track. Patchen had a slight advantage on the start and at the half (1 [illegible]) led by a length, both horses running. At the mile [illegible] the mare retained her lead. On the second mile the mare ran for nearly a quarter and at the half Parrott led her three lengths and won the heat in [illegible]

To the surprise of the few who had remained to hear the decision the judges announced no heat, giving as their reason that they did not believe that Patchen's driver Jim Misner drove to win. Utley was substituted for Misner and a fourth heat was trotted which was won by Parrott in [illegible]

In justice to the driver of Patchen it is no more than right to say that Mr Thomas one of the judges stated to an OREGONIAN reporter that he regarded the race as fair as any he had ever seen trotted. Mr Bigham was confident from some suspicious circumstances connected with betting [illegible] a man interested indirectly in Patchen that the mare was not driven for what she was worth. Judge Tolman was non-committal. To satisfy clamorous outsiders and to keep the record for honest racing clean the judges at length resolved to make the above decision which however did not affect the result of the race.

THE WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE

SPECIAL REPORT FOR THE OREGONIAN

OLYMPIA Oct 8 1879

But little transpired of interest during the morning session of the house.

The report of the committee on rules and joint rules was amended and adopted and house bill No 1 offered by Mr White of King, was passed to a second reading. This bill is a somewhat novel one and its features are at least debatable. It is entitled an act to protect the inmates of insane asylum and providing that all patients under the care of the territory in such asylum shall be absolutely uncontrolled in the matter of their correspondence; that they shall be furnished with stationery, stamps etc sufficient in amount to enable them to write at least two letters per week and that all such letters shall be dropped in a box under the exclusive control of a U S postal agent without being first submitted to the censorship of the superintendent or of any person whatsoever. There is considerable interest manifested concerning it, owing to the personal influence of a lady who was unjustly incarcerated in Illinois and was unable owing to this censorship over correspondence, to obtain her liberty for some two years.

At half past one the house convened and shortly after the council entered and took seats within the bar when the governor was informed that the legislative assembly was in waiting to hear any message he might have to deliver. At 2 P M the governor entered escorted by Messrs Percival, Ward and Shaw on the part of the house and by Messrs La Du and Day upon the part of the council. The capitol building was crowded, all available space both in the lobby and on the floor of the house being occupied in many instances by ladies. The governor delivered his message slowly, painstakingly and in an impressive manner dwelling upon its more important parts and evidently carrying conviction to the minds of his hearers. Upon its close he was warmly congratulated. The house ordered 1500 copies printed and adjourned.

To-morrow it is supposed the assembly will enter upon the usual business of the session. The eastern members profess to be disgusted with the "mist" but are quietly told that it will help to wash the alkali dust out of their throats.

The town is rapidly thinning out and save for the occasional new faces one meets there is little to remind us that the wisdom of the territory is hard at work enacting laws for our benefit.

The members are discussing the advisability of sending over a committee to Portland for the purpose of welcoming General Grant and inviting him to the territory—this being his camping ground when a lieutenant in the service.

A gentleman from Neah Bay informs us that the salmon run at that place has been very large this season.

The reservation Indians some 200 of whom left some time ago for the hop and potato fields, have not yet returned.

The Fenton Coal Co's store at Renton has been attached for debt by Messrs Schwabacher Bros & Co of this city.

George Smith the well known cattle driver was married recently at Ellensburg to Miss Preston formerly of this city.

The new 1000 pound bell for Trinity church of this city was placed in position in the new tower just constructed by Messrs Clough & Robbins to-day.

W H White Esq of this city in placing in nomination Frank Seidel of this city for the position of watchman upon the convening of the territorial legislature at Olympia on Monday last gave utterance to the following: Mr Speaker—I rise to place in nomination the name of Mr Frank Seidel, a soldier who bears his credentials upon his body. A soldier who for three years served his country in her time of need. At the present time this coast is all aglow with enthusiasm while welcoming a distinguished soldier because he was a soldier. The citizens of this country are unanimous in their expressions of opprobrium against a congress which has thrust soldiers out of office. Five soldiers have asked the party in power in this territory for position in this legislature and all have been denied. I offer the name of a soldier to your consideration.

FIRE THIS MORNING.

The Printing Office of Niles & Beebe Badly Damaged

Coggins & Beach's Stock Suffers by Water.

Efficient Work by the Department

[illegible] this morning the barkeeper at the [illegible] House discovered that the interior of the [illegible] building situated nearly in the middle of [illegible] on the west side of Front street [illegible] and Pine was on fire. He [illegible] sent the alarm to the central office of the [illegible] and the alarm was immediately communicated to Willamette No 1. A general alarm was sounded at once and the entire department summoned to the scene. The building belongs to Mr Eugene Shelby. The lower story is occupied by the firm of Coggins & Beach as a sash and door store. The upper story is occupied by the well known firm of Niles & Beebe job printers. The fire originated in the job office probably from a flue. Some one was engaged at work until a late hour and the fire may have been communicated from a lamp. Some little time elapsed between the alarm and the arrival of the engines at the scene during which the fire gained considerable headway. The interior of the job office was in flames when the engines first got water through the hose but two heavy streams quickly subdued them. However, the fire had worked its way up between the rafters and roof and could not be got at readily. For some time the firemen fought like tigers at a great disadvantage not being able to reach the seat of the fire.

The building was fairly deluged with water—four or five heavy streams being directed on the roof and through the windows. In about thirty minutes after the alarm was sounded the fire was under complete control. At 2 o'clock—as we write—the fire is nearly extinguished. The firemen fought gallantly and deserve more than a passing mention for their efficient services.

Niles & Beebe are insured in various companies to the amount of about $3000 as near as could be learned. It is reliably reported that they have $3000 in the Commercial Union and $2000 in the London Queen and another small policy.

Coggins & Beach are insured through San Francisco agencies and at this time it is impossible to learn in what sum. The building is also known to be insured but not in what company or what amount.

It is not possible at this time to estimate the loss but it is certain that it will be mostly by water.

The stock of both Niles & Beebe and Coggins & Beach is of a character which will not be affected by water.

The solid fire walls on either side of the burning building prevented the flames from communicating to VanSchuyver & Co's liquor store on the north and Neustadter Bros on the south.

B [illegible] Young who was sleeping on the lower floor was awakened by the smoke and escaped without difficulty. A statement during the progress of the fire that he was still in the building caused intense excitement for a moment which was soon dispelled by his presence.

The munificence of the duke of Norfolk as a Catholic is wonderful. It is estimated that within the past ten years he has applied over $1 000 000 to his religion.

THE COUNTER & SEAM PROTECTOR
TRADE MARK
HERCULES
PATENTED MAY 21, 1878
In this boot the counter is covered by a piece of leather extending from under the sole to some three inches above the upper edge of the counter or in other words, the counter is between the leather of the boot and the protector and is not exposed either on the outside or the inside of the boot consequently the heel does not touch it at all. Thus one of the greatest objections to boots—the trouble of getting the heel over the counter or stiffening—is removed. This is an object of great importance to the consumer both in economy and comfort. On this point we need only appeal to the thousands who wear boots.
HERCULES.
HERCULES
Another advantage gained by this arrangement is that the same piece of leather that covers and protects the counter also extends beyond the side seams covering those seams thereby greatly increasing their strength. Again in the old style boot the leg is liable to sag or fall around the ankle but in the Hercules Boot this is rendered less liable by the counter protector as it doubles the leather at the point where the sagging usually takes place.
All boots—men's, boys and youths—may be manufactured with this improvement, though it is most desirable in heavy boots where great strength is required.

RECIPROCITY IN TRADE.

A report by the English board of trade, covering eight months of the present year, gives many interesting details of the course of trade between this country and England. Trade both ways has increased: that is we have increased our imports from England as well as our exports to that country, as compared with the corresponding part of last year. After presenting an analysis of of the figures the New York Times says:

It is evident from these data that the extraordinary exports of grain and food material which have been going from the United States for several years past, if they continue, are not to be paid for to so great an extent as heretofore by our evidences of indebtedness, nor wholly by specie. The indebtedness of this country, having been largely settled, an increase of imports other than specie will naturally follow. And it is desirable that it should do so. Within reasonable limits, which are easily observed, so long as business is conducted at home on sound principles, we shall find our profit in such imports more surely and more generally than in sales for money only. The old "mercantile" theory that it is only in the accumulation of gold that a country prospers has still a strong hold on the public mind in this country, but it is not a sound theory, or one to be encouraged by our fiscal policy. It is in commerce—the mutually profitable exchange of the commodities which each country can produce—that our own people, as well as those of other countries, will find their greatest and most permanent advantage.

This view is based on undeniably sound principles. But it runs directly counter to the notion that our true policy is to shut the goods of England, our own principal customer, out of our markets, under the plea of "protecting" our industries. For we must buy of those countries to which we expect to sell, and we can only sell to other countries in proportion, in the long run, as they are permitted to sell to us. If we do not take the goods of other countries they cannot take ours, because they have no other means of paying for them. Those who would sell must buy, and those who buy freely are enabled to sell freely. Trade is exchange of commodities. "Goods for goods" is the principle on which it is based. If a country will not buy it cannot sell. The idea of exporting goods without importing others in return which is based on the notion that we should require gold in payment for everything and accumulate gold in the country, is altogether unsound, as the Times points out. Gold is no proper basis of public wealth. It is itself a commodity, the chief use of which is to facilitate the exchange of other commodities. If we shut out imports from other countries and require gold in payment, there will be a limit to our exports, because there is a limit to the supply of gold which they could obtain to pay us. But if we expect trade on the basis of "goods for goods" there is no limit to it but the capacity of the general industry and consumption of the world.

The right policy is a policy which would facilitate our selling such goods as we can produce cheaper than other nations, and in buying such goods as they can produce cheaper than we can. Different countries and different peoples have special qualifications for producing and making special goods, and it is for the benefit not only of them selves but everybody else, that their energies should be concentrated on that which they can produce best. This plain principle underlies free trade. In the extract quoted above from the New York Times the principle is implied. The great journals of the country, of both parties, are too intelligent to consent to a hide bound protective system. Great benefits would undoubtedly result to us from relaxation of the present tariff. We should export more, and get better prices, if certain obstacles were cleared away which prevent free importation,—that is, which cut off from other countries the means of buying from us. It ought to be apparent that other countries can buy of us only in proportion as we buy of them. Who can doubt that we would sell more to England if we bought more from her? Restriction of trade, therefore, by heavy tariffs, is a most injurious policy for ourselves.

A TALE OF TWO LIVES.

About twenty years ago there lived, among its other people, in the city of San Francisco two men. Both were in the prime of life, sound of body, vigorous and active. Both were good workmen. They were personal friends, and often talked over their plans and prospects. One of these, being of a careful and thrifty turn, laid aside the savings of his labor till he had accumulated enough to buy him a building lot. On this he put up a small, though neat and convenient house. This left him for a time in debt, but by industry and close economy he paid off the amount in installments. Then he bought another lot, which he paid for out of his savings, and in time another and another. After a number of years his property had begun to rise in value, and he erected buildings, cheap ones at first, from which he obtained good rents. Meantime his industry never flagged. He labored on, accumulating money as the years went by, until at length a fund by no means inconsiderable lay in bank, and his credit was good for much more. Then his operations were enlarged; he became interested in various enterprises and prospered therein; he bought more property in various localities, and to-day, if not an absolutely wealthy man, is certainly in an affluent condition and has a foundation laid on which may be built a large fortune. Besides his income from real estate, he has a leading share in a large and prosperous industrial establishment, which is steadily increasing its machinery and enlarging its operations.

His associate and co-worker of years ago started on precisely the same basis as himself. He was an industrious and good workman, and possessed more than ordinary intelligence. For a time he seemed to strive to lay in industry and economy a similar foundation for future fortune. But he was easily tempted away from his proper employment, and having a gift of ready speech betook himself to local politics. After a little time he became somewhat known, and as he spoke with considerable force he did not fail to make a creditable impression. It soon became the end and aim of his ambition to figure at conventions and to make speeches in doors and out of doors during election campaigns. But the service did not prove a profitable one. To give it attention his proper employment had to be neglected. What he made in his often-interrupted labors at his trade was wasted almost as soon as made. As the years glided by and the fact became apparent to him that he was not getting on in the world, he became discontented and, like others, drifted, as disappointed men will, into beliefs that were wild, erroneous and hurtful. He became naturally and of course a champion of these beliefs. He holds that society is wrongly organized because it permits great inequalities of fortune; but it does not occur to him that his only remedies are within himself. Had he taken the course of his early associate there is no reason to doubt that he would have had similar fortune, and perhaps greater fortune, for his natural talents were really fine. As a politician he can command a small gathering of dissatisfied, complaining and envious idle men, of whom he is the the orator and leader: but not himself nor any one else is a copper coin's worth the better of their meetings or of his harangues. Not only that, but by his course he estranges [illegible] gard a tera is the only reward worth having.

It is not unlikely that we have similar instances in Portland from which comparisons might be drawn. Indeed now no doubt many persons could, from their own observation, fill out such a picture like it. The main lesson it teaches is that it is better to work than to talk; better to depend on one's own energies industriously directed, than to look for resources where no resources are to be found. Men must legislate for themselves.

THE BRITISH IN ASIA.

Since the disaster at Cabul the English have been making every exertion to recover their position and prestige in Afghanistan. A large force is on the march from India. Fighting is reported, in which the British have the advantage. An effort is being made to mass a sufficient force to render certain a favorable issue of the war. But there are great difficulties. Afghanistan has been a fruitful source of trouble and disaster to the English. Forty years ago a large British army which had invaded the country was overwhelmed and utterly destroyed. Out of sixteen thousand men there was barely one survivor. India has been stripped of wealth to carry on these and other wars; instead of using the large revenues drawn from the people to provide against the vicissitudes of climate, all has been wasted, and drouths desolate large sections, just as in times long past. The money wasted in these aggressive wars, had it been spent in irrigating works, would have provided against the terrible famines so common to the country. But Russian approach to India is intensely dreaded by the English. Something like insanity comes over the English mind whenever the possibility of a movement by Russia toward Constantinople or India is suggested. Russia had influence in Afghanistan, and the English, in their jealous and insane fear, determined to supplant the Muscovite in that country. This is the explanation of the present war. The true way for the English to strengthen their Afghan frontier would be to put India in a state of prosperity, which after all, must be its real security. The policy they have now started upon necessitates ultimately the conquest and government of the Afghan country. This will be only a new bill of expense, involving the guarding of a new frontier against Russia, no more safe or desirable, and far less convenient, than that of India. Britain will be compelled to manage an adverse population, full of prejudice and hostility. She will have a country of little value for the purposes of commerce. She will be compelled to support an increased and expensive military establishment, that can do no good further than to hold in subjection a discontented people. In brief Afghan is an elephant to the English. In attempting to use it as a shield against the Russians, they are entrapped into troubles and perplexities that were entirely unforeseen, and into a policy the end of which they cannot fathom. All this, not of necessity, but because scenic display has been substituted for sound statesmanship. Now, whether the ameer is maintained on the throne, or a new arrangement is made, it is one thing to the English. Under whatever guise they may act, their policy has carried them to a point where they are compelled to control and govern Afghanistan, with its sullen, treacherous and hostile population. In the meantime Russia will intrigue, and add as much to English troubles as possible. It is not her policy as yet to fight. She may not be more than an intriguer for many years to come, but she will be restless and uneasy—a source of unrest to the English all the while. And it is not impossible that this very Afghan enterprise will go far toward breaking down English power in India.

The programme for the Grant reception is now pretty clearly defined. Just at what hour of Monday he will arrive cannot yet be known, but probably it will be before noon. Some discontent has been expressed with the supposed plan of reception, an impression having got abroad that the general committee intend to take a steamer, meet the Grant party down the river, and make the reception a kind of exclusive affair. It is therefore proper to state that the reception will take place in Portland. The reception committee will simply take a steamer, meet the St. Paul and escort Gen. Grant to the city. The reception, address of welcome and all other proceedings will take place in the city, so that all who desire may be present. The affair will be in all respects a public one. A popular demonstration is expected, and no class of persons expects to monopolize it.

Lest there be some misapprehension among the people of Oregon and Washington concerning invitations from the committee who have in hand the arrangements for receiving Gen. Grant on his arrival here, it may be well to state that all persons have a cordial invitation to be present and participate. Special or separate invitations could not be sent to all; hence a general invitation has been published for several days past in all the daily journals. It is desired that all concerned will consider this general invitation, which is intended for all persons in Oregon and Washington, as extending quite as cordial a request to be present as if each individual had received a special note to that effect.

The greenbackers are trying to make a political canvass in Mississippi. But they are having a hard time of it. Great efforts are being made to "bulldose" them out of their rights. One of the papers, published at Houston in that state, give them this advice: "Greenback man, you must learn to shout. You must make up your minds to kill. Nothing will check this hellish spirit of intolerance but lead. Prepare for it. Sleep not on your arms."

The appointment of Mr. Nix, of Blackville, S. C., who came so near being assassinated the other day because he is a colored man and a republican, was opposed by Senator "Hamburg" Butler, of that state, because he was "an objectionable person"—that is, a colored republican. Assassination is a new way of getting rid of objectionable appointments.

Gen. Butler has obtained the nomination from every species of piebald convention in Massachusetts except that of the prohibition party. He didn't go in to capture that convention for the most excellent reason that the members of that body will help him a great deal more by running a separate ticket than by openly supporting him.

Since 1857 the republicans have elected the governor of New York five times and the democrats five times. During the same period the republicans have carried the state three times for the presidency, and the democrats twice. From this showing it would appear that New York might be reckoned as chief of the "doubtful states."

NOMINATION FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

W. H. ANDRUS, OF NO. 1.

HALL OF WILLAMETTE ENGINE CO. NO. 1,
PORTLAND, Ogn., Oct. 3, 1879.

AT A REGULAR MEETING OF WILLAMETTE Engine Company No. 1, held at their hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 2, 1879, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Sound judgment and deliberate conduct in the active discharge of his duties are the pre-eminent requisites of ability in the head officer of a live and efficient fire department; and

WHEREAS, A fireman of many years' active service possessing such marks of ability, who has served for nearly four years as chairman of the committee of the common council having control of matters relating to the needs and efficiency of the Portland Fire Department, is well worthy of the confidence and support of all firemen as a man who would ably and faithfully discharge the duties of chief engineer and successfully lead and direct the department in times of activity and critical service; therefore

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

Read and Learn for Yourself.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country, its sale now reaches in every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe Coughs, Pneumonia, Asthma, and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 400,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

LIFE OR DEATH.

It is a question of life or death. Nature admonishes us by the loss of appetite, by depression of spirits, by a bitter taste in the month, that we are sick. Take Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, as by its mild but beneficial action on the Liver and Kidneys it powerfully assists nature in her efforts to re-establish a healthy condition of the whole system.

DR. MINTIE'S "SPECIAL" MEDICINES

Are made from the best materials obtainable. They are not cure alls. They are favorite prescriptions that have been tried and tested for years in his extensive practice, until now they are absolutely perfect in the troubles for which they are recommended.

The NEPHRETICUM works wonders in Kidney and Bladder complaints. Those suffering with Dropsy, Bright's disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Retention of urine, Pain in the back, Incontinence, or any disease of the Kidney and Bladder, will be astonished at the relief one bottle will afford.

For Female weakness it is absolutely without an equal.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Biliousness and Dyspepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

Every family should keep the Dandelion Pills on hand.

See what the druggists say about Dr. Mintie's medicines: "Everybody speaks highly of them."—C. H. Woodard & Co., druggists, Portland. "All who take them recommend them."—John A. Child, druggist, Portland. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, San Francisco, say: "We regard Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy before the public." All druggists keep these medicines.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE:

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

A PROMISING "BOOM" FROM THE EAST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27, 1879.

——— ———: Have about finished up here and expect to be with you a week or so after you receive this. Feist & Franks' failure has had a bad effect on the booming market, and has made CASH twice as big as it was. I have used all you sent me and want more. I cleared a Philadelphia manufacturer out of two lines of Spreads yesterday, and have forwarded you a good White Jaquard Quilt to sell for 50c, and a Large Colored Spread, heavy and fringed, to sell for $1—worth $1.65 by the case and sold every day for that money. You will receive some excellent Rubber Ulsters for ladies, such as we sold last season for $4 50, which you can sell for $3, and a lot with large double capes equally cheap. I cleared the French Kid Gloves this morning. Portland has never seen such goods at the price; the "Jouvin Coupe" is a Glove which you can warrant in every particular.

The BLACK SILKS I wrote you of are in the Custom-house, but I expect to get them through and on the road Monday. The 75c. TRIMMING SILK will take the town by storm. I came to terms with the Fairmount Mill (N. Bros & Co.) and they have shipped the Check Dress Goods, to sell at 12 yards for $1. They are usually worth 20 cts. per yard and the patterns are quite new.

Please remit £438, in sight exchange to the [illegible] Spinning Co., Belfast. It is the last payment on the Linen Purchase. I shall mail you a batch of invoices this evening.

Very truly, &c., D. S. COHEN.

P. S.—I picked up a lot of RUBBER UMBRELLAS at auction Thursday. They are retailing here at $4 50; elegant and durable goods. We will be able to sell them for $1 50. I offered that for a duplicate, but couldn't get them.

In connection with the above we will state that some of the goods have arrived. They are too numerous to be enumerated, but even a casual inspection will convince any one that the place to trade is at the

RECIPROCITY IN TRADE.

A report by the English board of trade covering eight months of the present year, gives many interesting details of the course of trade between this country and England. Trade both ways has increased; that is we have increased our imports from England as well as our exports to that country, as compared with the corresponding part of last year. After presenting an analysis of of the figures the New York Times says:

> It is evident from these data that the extraordinary exports of grain and food material which have been going from the United States for several years past, if they continue, are not to be paid for to so great an extent as heretofore by our evidences of indebtedness, nor wholly by specie. The indebtedness of this country, having been largely settled, an increase of imports other than specie will naturally follow. And it is desirable that it should do so. Within reasonable limits, which are easily observed, so long as business is conducted at home on sound principles, we shall find our profit in such imports more surely and more generally than in sales for money only. The old "mercantile" theory that it is only in the accumulation of gold that a country prospers has still a strong hold on the public mind in this country, but it is not a sound theory, or one to be encouraged by our fiscal policy. It is in commerce—the mutually profitable exchange of the commodities which each country can produce—that our own people, as well as those of other countries, will find their greatest and most permanent advantage.

This view is based on undeniably sound principles. But it runs directly counter to the notion that our true policy is to shut the goods of England, our own principal customer, out of our markets, under the plea of "protecting" our industries. For we must buy of those countries to which we expect to sell; and we can only sell to other countries in proportion, in the long run, as they are permitted to sell to us. If we do not take the goods of other countries they cannot take ours, because they have no other means of paying for them. Those who would sell must buy, and those who buy freely are enabled to sell freely. Trade is exchange of commodities. "Goods for goods" is the principle on which it is based. If a country will not buy it cannot sell. The idea of exporting goods without importing others in return, which is based on the notion that we should require gold in payment for everything and accumulate gold in the country, is altogether unsound, as the Times points out. Gold is no proper basis of public wealth. It is itself a commodity, the chief use of which is to facilitate the exchange of other commodities. If we shut out imports from other countries and require gold in payment, there will be a limit to our exports, because there is a limit to the supply of gold which they could obtain to pay us. But if we expect trade on the basis of "goods for goods" there is no limit to it but the capacity of the general industry and consumption of the world.

The right policy is a policy which would facilitate us in selling such goods as we can produce cheaper than other nations, and in buying such goods as they can produce cheaper than we can. Different countries and different peoples have special qualifications for producing and making special goods, and it is for the benefit not only of themselves but everybody else, that their energies should be concentrated on that which they can produce best. This plain principle underlies free trade. In the extract quoted above from the New York Times the principle is [illegible]. The great journals of the country, of both parties, are too intelligent to consent to a hide bound protective system. Great benefits would undoubtedly result to us from relaxation of the present tariff. We should export more, and get better prices, if certain obstacles were cleared away which prevent free importation,—that is, which cut off from other countries the means of buying from us. It ought to be apparent that other countries can buy of us only in proportion as we buy of them. Who can doubt that we should sell more to England if we bought more from her? Restriction of trade, therefore, by heavy tariffs, is a most injurious policy for ourselves.

A TALE OF TWO LIVES.

About twenty years ago there lived, among the other people, in the city of San Francisco two men. Both were in the prime of life, sound of body, vigorous and active. Both were good workmen. They were personal friends, and often talked over their plans and prospects. One of them, being of a careful and thrifty turn, laid aside the savings of his labor till he had accumulated enough to buy him a building lot. On this he put up a small, cheap but convenient house. This left him for a time in debt, but by industry and close economy he paid off the amount in installments. Then he bought another lot, which he paid for out of his savings, and in time another and another. After a number of years his property had begun to rise in value, and he erected buildings, cheap ones at first, from which he obtained good rents. Meantime his industry never flagged. He labored on, accumulating money as the years went by, until at length a fund by no means inconsiderable lay in bank, and his credit was good for much more. Then his operations were enlarged; he became interested in various enterprises and prospered therein; he bought more property in various localities, and to-day, if not an absolutely wealthy man, is certainly in an affluent condition and has a foundation laid on which may be built a large fortune. Besides his income from real estate, he has a leading share in a large and prosperous industrial establishment, which is steadily increasing its machinery and enlarging its operations.

His associate and co-worker of years ago started on precisely the same basis as himself. He was an industrious and good workman, and possessed more than ordinary intelligence. For a time he seemed to strive to lay in industry and economy a similar foundation for future fortune. But he was easily tempted away from his proper employment, and having a gift of ready speech betook himself to local politics. After a little time he became somewhat known, and as he spoke with considerable force he did not fail to make a creditable impression. It soon became the end and aim of his ambition to figure at conventions and to make speeches in doors and out of doors during election campaigns. But the service did not prove a profitable one. To give it attention his proper employment had to be neglected. What he made in his often-interrupted labors at his trade was wasted almost as soon as made. As the years glided by and the fact became apparent to him that he was not getting on [illegible] he became discontented and [illegible], as disappointed men will, [illegible] beliefs that were wild, erroneous and hurtful. He became naturally and of course a champion of these beliefs. He holds that society is wrongly organized because it permits great inequalities of fortune; but it does not occur to him that his only remedies are within himself. Had he taken the course of his early associate there is no reason to doubt that he would have had similar fortune, and perhaps greater fortune, for his natural talents were really fine. As a politician he can command a small gathering of dissatisfied, complaining and envious idle men, of whom he is the the orator and leader; but not himself nor any one else is a copper coin's worth the better of their meetings or of his harangues. Not only that, but by his course he estranges [illegible] gard [illegible] is the only regard worth having.

It is not unlikely that we have similar instances in Portland from which comparisons might be drawn. Indeed how no doubt many persons could, from their own observation, fill out here a picture like it. The main lesson it teaches is that it is better to work than to talk; better to depend on one's own energies, industriously directed, than to look for resources where no resources are to be found. Men must legislate for themselves.

THE BRITISH IN ASIA.

Since the disaster at Cabul the English have been making every exertion to recover their position and prestige in Afghanistan. A large force is on the march from India. Fighting is reported, in which the British have the advantage. An effort is being made to mass a sufficient force to render certain a favorable issue of the war. But there are great difficulties. Afghanistan has been a fruitful source of trouble and disaster to the English. Forty years ago a large British army which had invaded the country was overwhelmed and utterly destroyed. Out of sixteen thousand men there was barely one survivor. India has been stripped of wealth to carry on these and other wars; instead of using the large revenues drawn from the people to provide against the vicissitudes of climate, all has been wasted, and drouths desolate large sections, just as in times long past. The money wasted in these aggressive wars, had it been spent in irrigating works, would have provided against the terrible famines so common to the country. But Russian approach to India is intensely dreaded by the English. Something like insanity comes over the English mind whenever the possibility of a movement by Russia toward Constantinople or India is suggested. Russia had influence in Afghanistan, and the English, in their jealousy and insane fear, determined to supplant the Muscovite in that country. This is the explanation of the present war. The true way for the English to strengthen their Afghan frontier would be to put India in a state of prosperity, which after all, must be its real security. The policy they have now started upon necessitates ultimately the conquest and government of the Afghan country. This will be only a new bill of expense, involving the guarding of a new frontier against Russia, no more safe or desirable, and far less convenient, than that of India. Britain will be compelled to manage an adverse population, full of prejudice and hostility. She will have a country of little value for the purposes of commerce. She will be compelled to support an increased and expensive military establishment, that can do no good further than to hold in subjection a discontented people. In brief Afghan is an elephant to the English. In attempting to use it as a shield against the Russians, they are entrapped into troubles and perplexities that were entirely unforeseen, and into a policy the end of which they cannot fathom. All this, not of necessity, but because scenic display has been substituted for sound statesmanship. Now, whether the ameer is maintained on the throne, or a new arrangement is made, it is one thing to the English. Under whatever guise they may act, their policy has carried them to a point where they are compelled to control and govern Afghanistan, with its sullen, treacherous and hostile population. In the meantime Russia will intrigue, and add as much to English troubles as possible. It is not her policy as yet to fight. She may not be more than an intriguer for many years to come, but she will be restless and uneasy—a source of unrest to the English all the while. And it is not impossible that this very Afghan enterprise will go far toward breaking down English power in India.

The programme for the Grant reception is now pretty clearly defined. Just at what hour of Monday he will arrive cannot yet be known, but probably it will be before noon. Some discontent has been expressed with the supposed plan of reception, an impression having got abroad that the general committee intend to take a steamer, meet the Grant party down the river, and make the reception a kind of exclusive affair. It is therefore proper to state that the reception will take place in Portland. The reception committee will simply take a steamer, meet the St. Paul and escort Gen. Grant to the city. The reception, address of welcome and all other proceedings will take place in the city, so that all who desire may be present. The affair will be in all respects a public one. A popular demonstration is expected, and no class of persons expects to monopolize it.

Lest there be some misapprehension among the people of Oregon and Washington concerning invitations from the committee who have in hand the arrangements for receiving Gen. Grant on his arrival here, it may be well to state that all persons have a cordial invitation to be present and participate. Special or separate invitations could not be sent to all; hence a general invitation has been published for several days past in all the daily journals. It is desired that all concerned will consider this general invitation, which is intended for all persons in Oregon and Washington, as extending quite as cordial a request to be present as if each individual had received a special note to that effect.

The greenbackers are trying to make a political canvass in Mississippi. But they are having a hard time of it. Great efforts are being made to "bulldose" them out of their rights. One of the papers, published at Houston in that state, give them this advice: "Greenback men, you must learn to shout. You must make up your minds to kill. Nothing will check this hellish spirit of intolerance but lead. Prepare for it. Sleep not on your arms."

The appointment of Mr. Nix, of Blackville, S. C., who came so near being assassinated the other day because he is a colored man and a republican, was opposed by Senator "Hamburg" Butler, of that state, because he was "an objectionable person"—that is, a colored republican. Assassination is a new way of getting rid of objectionable appointments.

Gen. Butler has obtained the nomination from every species of piebald convention in Massachusetts except that of the prohibition party. He didn't go in to capture that convention for the most excellent reason that the members of that body will help him a great deal more by running a separate ticket than by openly supporting him.

Since 1857 the republicans have elected the governor of New York five times and the democrats five times. During the same period the republicans have carried the state three times for the presidency and the democrats twice. From this showing it would appear that New York might be reckoned as chief of the "doubtful states."

NOMINATION FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

W. H. ANDRUS, OF No. 1.

HALL OF WILLAMETTE ENGINE Co. No. 1,
PORTLAND, Ogn., Oct. 3, 1879.

AT A REGULAR MEETING OF WILLAMETTE Engine Company No. 1, held at their hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 2, 1879, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Sound judgment and deliberate conduct in the active discharge of his duties are the pre-eminent requisites of ability in the head officer of a live and efficient fire department; and

WHEREAS, A fireman of many years' active service possessing such marks of ability, who has served for nearly four years as chairman of the committee of the common council having control of matters relating to the needs and efficiency of the Portland Fire Department, is well worthy of the confidence and support of all firemen as a man who would ably and faithfully discharge the duties of chief engineer and successfully lead and direct the department in times of activity and critical service: therefore

Resolved, That Willamette Engine Co. No. 1 esteems Mr. W. H. Andrus to possess such worthy requisites of ability, and we, the members of said company, pledging him our hearty and united support, hereby nominate him for the office of Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department, and respectfully present his name to the consideration of voters at the regular election on December 1, 1879.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr. Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

Read and Learn for Yourself.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country, its sale now reaches in every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe Coughs, Pneumonia, Asthma and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 400,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

LIFE OR DEATH.

It is a question of life or death. Nature admonishes us by the loss of appetite, by depression of spirits, by a bitter taste in the mouth, that we are sick. Take Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, as by its mild but beneficial action on the Liver and Kidneys it powerfully assists nature in her efforts to re-establish a healthy condition of the whole system.

DR. MINTIE'S "SPECIAL" MEDICINES

Are made from the best materials obtainable. They are not cure alls. They are favorite prescriptions that have been tried and tested for years in his extensive practice, until now they are absolutely perfect in the troubles for which they are recommended.

The NEPHRETICUM works wonders in Kidney and Bladder complaints. Those suffering with Dropsy, Bright's disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Retention of urine, Pain in the back, Incontinence, or any disease of the Kidney and Bladder, will be astonished at the relief one bottle will afford.

For Female weakness it is absolutely without an equal.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Biliousness and Dispepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

Every family should keep the Dandelion Pills on hand.

See what the druggists say about Dr. Mintie's medicines: "Everybody speaks highly of them."—C. H. Woodard & Co., druggists, Portland. "All who take them recommend them."—John A. Child, druggist, Portland. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, San Francisco, say: "We regard Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy before the public." All druggists keep these medicines.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE:

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

A PROMISING "BOOM" FROM THE EAST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27, 1879.

——— ———: Have about finished up here and expect to be with you a week or so after you receive this. Feist & Franks' failure has had a bad effect on the booming market, and has made CASH twice as big as it was. [illegible] have used all you sent me and want more. I cleared a Philadelphia manufacturer out of two lines of Spreads yesterday, and have forwarded you a good White Jaquard Quilt to sell for 50c., and a Large Colored Spread, heavy and fringed, to sell for $1—worth $1.65 by the case and sold every day for that money. You will receive some excellent Rubber Ulsters for ladies, such as we sold last season for $4 50, which you can sell for $3, and a lot with large double capes equally cheap. I cleared the French Kid Gloves this morning. Portland has never seen such goods at the price; the "Jouvin Coupe" is a Glove which you can warrant in every particular.

The BLACK SILKS I wrote you of are in the Custom-house, but I expect to get them through and on the road Monday. The 75c. TRIMMING [illegible] will take the town by storm. I came to terms with the Fairmount Mill ([illegible]) and they have shipped the Check Dress Goods, to sell at 14 yards for $1. They are actually worth 20 cts. per yard and the patterns are quite new. [illegible] case remit £408, in sight exchange to the [illegible] Spinning Co. Be [illegible]. It is the last payment on the Linen Purchase. I shall mail you a batch of [illegible] this evening.
Very truly, &c., D. S. C[illegible]

P. S.—I picked up a lot of RUBBER UMBRELLAS at auction Thursday. They are retailing here at $2 50; elegant and durable goods. We will be able to sell them for $1 50. I offered that for a duplicate, but couldn't get them.

In connection with the above we will state that some of the goods have arrived. They [illegible] too numerous to be enumerated, but even a casual inspection will convince any one that the place to trade is at the

Palouse Gazette It is whispered that Stevens county will be divided by act of the legislature during its present session

The buzz saw again—time last week person, Henry Martinu place Colfax W T damage, thumb and one finger of the left

Mr C C Cram, of Penawawa raised 4000 pounds of onions, sowed broadcast, on one fifth of an acre of sod ground this season The yield would have been larger had he not used from the patch for family purposes

Palatha correspondence One hundred thousand bushels of wheat in this vicinity and no way to move it. Our grist mill has not started, but we expect it to grind soon They are receiving wheat at 40 cents Emigrants are coming in every day and are well pleased with the country The land is most all taken—that is to say, the cream is gone

Coeur d Alene correspondence More new buildings are in course of construction Every one seems busy; striving hard to make things comfortable for themselves before winter sets in Twelve months hence will see a fine little steamer fifty feet in length and ten feet width of beam plying between this post and the headwaters of Coeur d Alene

Spokan Times Some land prospectors have returned from a trip over on the Little Spokan and report a large body of fine agricultural land. This was known to exist before, but attention had not been directed to that particular point We understand that it is fine rich farming land, lying along the river, with timber very convenient, and that the land in the timber is rich also This will prove a bonanza for new comers

The place selected for the proposed government bridge at Spokan Falls is just above the sharp descent to the lower fall, before the current acquires much force The plan of the bridge is for three spans with two piers one on either side of the deeper channel near the center of the stream This will be much cheaper than a suspension of one span, consequently more likely to be allowed and probably much sooner The Times says "The view of the falls from the bridge both above and below will be very fine When the breeze is right the spray will rise and touch the face; while the view will be from the best possible position. What a point for inspiration, or desperation "

REASONS WHY

SO MANY USE

ROYAL LAUNDRY SOAP.

1, Because only the VERY BEST materials are used in its construction.

2 Because our foreman, who personally superintends its manufacture, is the man who, for FIVE CONSECUTIVE YEARS, took the ONLY premiums awarded at the Oregon State Fair for SOAPS and LARD OIL.

3. Because it never fails to give complete satisfaction.
